TEACHER PRAYER

O dearest Jesus, You have given me the privilege of teaching Your little lambs. Bless my studies and efforts to share Your Word with them and thereby strengthen their faith in You. Enable them, too, to share Your Word with others. Awaken in them a sincere desire to support the preaching of the Gospel far and wide with prayers and offerings. Amen.

VOCABULARY

contention - a verbal strife, argument, controversy, dispute commended - committed foremost - first

purple - purple dye

spirit of divination - able to foretell the future and/or do fortune telling

fair-minded - noble

OUTER AIM

The Lord sent Paul and Silas to revisit old churches and open new ones.

INNER AIM

The Lord uses believers to fulfill the truth that "The Lord gives the increase."

BACKGROUND

 Rupprecht Bible History References, Vol. 2, pp. 556-573

After their first missionary journey, Paul and Barnabas gave a lengthy report to the brethren in Antioch, Syria. The early church there had sent them on their journey, called by the Holy Spirit. Their journey had been very successful and rewarding. Many doors had been opened. About a year later, Paul and Barnabas were sent to Jerusalem to consult with the apostles and other brethren over a question that had arisen in Antioch regarding the Old Testament ceremonial law. The meeting went well. There was agreement. About a year later, the Antioch church again sent Paul on a missionary journey which would last three years.

Acts 15:36-41

Paul and Barnabas made plans and preparations to visit the brethren to whom they had preached on their first journey. Barnabas hoped to take along John, called Mark; but Paul said no. Barnabas and John therefore went off to Cyprus alone. Paul chose a man named Silas to accompany him. They journeyed through Syria and Cilicia, strengthening the churches.

Acts 16:1-11

Paul and Silas stopped at Derbe and Lystra. They asked a disciple named Timothy to join them on their journey. "The churches were strengthened in the faith and increased in number daily." v.5 They then passed through Phrygia and Galatia. The Holy Spirit prevented them from preaching in the Roman provinces of Asia and Bithynia. In a vision, the Lord called them to pass over into Europe.

Acts 16:12-40 Paul and Silas in Philippi

This section records their contact with Lydia, the seller of purple, and her conversion. Later Paul and Silas were arrested after casting out an evil spirit. They landed in prison. The Lord subsequently brought the jailer of Philippi and his household to faith.

Acts 17:1-9 Paul and Silas and Timothy at Thessalonica

Acts 17:10-14 Paul and Silas and Timothy at Berea

Acts 17:15-34 Paul in Athens

The idols and idolatry moved Paul to preach to the philosophers of the day. His sermon is recorded for us. Only a few of the hearers believed. They mocked at the resurrection of the dead.

Acts 18:1-17 Paul and his coworkers at Corinth

Here Paul met Aquila and Priscilla. The Lord encouraged him to continue there for some time--over 1 and a half years.

Acts 18:18-22 The journey continued with a stop in Ephesus.

Paul hurried on to Jerusalem to observe the Passover feast. While in Jerusalem he greeted the church. From there he went to Antioch in Syria and reported on his second missionary journey.

STUDENT PRAYER

O dearest Jesus, the great Shepherd of the Sheep, bless the preaching of the Gospel, both near and far. Be with all our missionaries, pastors, and teachers wherever they labor. Bless their efforts according to Your good and gracious will. Increase our faith. Move us to pray, "Thy Kingdom come." Enable us to do all that we can to help bring Your saving Gospel to lost, dying sinners. Amen.

PRESENTATION

This lesson follows the last. Again a map of the areas where Paul traveled would be most helpful to teacher and students alike. Following Paul and his companions as they journeyed helps make the account live. Within this bigger lesson there can be found more than one familiar Bible story from Paul's second missionary journey. (cf. The jailer of Philippi)

APPLICATION

Paul was "the apostle to the Gentiles." His missionary activities remind us that "the Lord is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. God our Savior will have all men to be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth." Paul's example and zeal to reach out to the heathen should serve as an inspiration also to us. This is one reason why the Holy Spirit inspired Luke to record the second missionary journey of Paul for us in the Scriptures.

In this story we again see how the Lord is in control. He calls, sends, guides, leads, and blesses. His Word and Spirit are what bring forth fruit.

The fact that Paul and Silas revisited places where they had labored earlier demonstrates the importance of "continuing in the Word" and confirming one another in the faith.

The Lord definitely was with Paul and Silas and those with them. He will also be with us. He has promised: "All authority is given unto Me. . . lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the age." Mark 28:20

Levels 1 & 2 - Activity Three Directions

1. Cut out the patterns and glue them on cardboard; color them and bend them as shown on Picture 1. Make openings where indicated. Bend parts of the cross marked with the dotted lines 90 degrees to the back.
2. Put the ready craft into an envelope and write on the envelope: "Salvation is found in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given to men by which we must be saved." Acts 4:12
3. This craft activity can help you explain your story for today.

Picture 1
God and Man were together.

Picture 2
Sin separated man from God.

Picture 3
The sacrifice of Jesus restored the relationship between man and God.

Paul's Second Missionary Journey

Acts 15:36 - 18:22

God chose Paul to spread the Gospel of Jesus to the people in faraway lands.

The Story

“Hear about The Resurrection!
Jesus of Nazareth is our Savior from sin!
He Lives! He is stronger than death!”

These are the words of the missionary Paul. After Jesus ascended to His Father in heaven, Paul traveled all over the world to tell people about Jesus. The Lord Jesus gave Paul great strength and courage. Paul says in the Bible that, “I live; and yet it is not I. It is Christ who is living in me.” Paul was full of love for God. Three times Paul took long trips to teach about Jesus. This story is about Paul’s second trip.

When Paul traveled he never stayed in motels. He walked on Roman roads from town to town. The believers would see him coming and would run out and invite him to stay in their homes. He would stay in a town for a long time, preaching about Jesus and making tents to earn money for his food. He had many towns to visit, because he had started many churches in his first missionary journey. And the believers always felt stronger and better after a visit from Paul.

Sometimes Paul would sail across the sea to faraway lands. And sometimes the people in those lands did not like what he said. If they had many gods of silver, and gods of gold, he would tell them that there was a true God. He would describe how the true God made all people and all animals and plants. He would tell them how wonderfully God made everything. His most important message was that this God Jesus died to take away all sins in the world.

On one of his sailing trips to Greece, he came to this city, called Athens.

This city was full of false gods. The beautiful buildings were full of idols like these. (Sphinx, Pan and Athena)

Paul walked to the middle of the city and preached a great sermon. Paul said he would tell them about a God that the people of Athens did not know. He told the people that Jesus of Nazareth was the Son of God who died on a cross and was raised to life again on Easter morning. He told the people to be sorry for their sins.

Some of the people in the towns where Jesus preached believed in Jesus and were baptized. But sometimes the people got angry when Paul told them about Jesus. They wanted to wait for an important man to be their savior. Sometimes they did not want to believe that Jesus could come out of the grave. They took Paul and put him in a prison like this one. Sometimes the people even tried to kill Paul for talking about Jesus.

But Paul never stopped preaching! God talked to Paul when Paul got tired. God told him never to be afraid. God told Paul that He had many believers who would be Paul's friends. Many thousands of people who heard Paul preach about Jesus became believers just like you and I.

Activity One

- ! Circle the tall statue of the idol named Athena above and in the picture of Athens on the second page.
- ! What does the First Commandment say about having other gods?

Activity Two

- ! On the picture of Athens, draw a picture of Paul giving his sermon. Write, "Jesus Lives!" next to your picture of Paul
- ! Your pastor is a missionary. What jobs does he do that are like Paul's job? How can you be a missionary like Paul?

Activity Three

Color the two pieces on pages 5 and 6. Then carefully cut them out. Your teacher will help you put the pieces together correctly. The directions are in the Teacher's Notes for this lesson. You can use these pieces to tell other people about what Jesus did for all the people in the world. Practice on your friends and family.

Paul's Second Missionary Journey

Acts 15:36 - 18:22

List some events you remember about Paul's first missionary journey?

Why might God want Paul to make another missionary journey?

Why were these journeys of Paul so important to you and me?

Prayer

O dearest Jesus, the great Shepherd of the Sheep, bless the preaching of the Gospel, both near and far. Be with all our missionaries, pastors, and teachers wherever they labor. Bless their efforts according to Your good and gracious will. Increase our faith. Move us to pray, "Thy Kingdom come." Enable us to do all that we can to help bring Your saving Gospel to lost, dying sinners. Amen.

The Story

The year is 50 A.D. It has been about 17 years since the Lord Jesus ascended to His Father. Here we find Paul setting out on a journey to “{36} go back and visit our brethren in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they are doing.” He did visit and strengthen and encourage the young church on earth. But, even better, during this second journey the history of Europe and America was determined. Paul of Tarsus is credited with bringing Christianity to Europe!

His chosen companion was Silas, a powerful preacher who, {32} “being a prophet also, had exhorted and strengthened the brethren with many words.”

But it was not an easy journey. The Holy Spirit led them first to Macedonia, a colony that had not heard of Jesus Christ. Here Paul and Silas began preaching, and were thrown into jail. As a result, Paul and Silas met and converted the jailer in Philippi. The jailer’s words are well-known. “What must I do to be saved?” Paul’s words are even more important. “Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and you will be saved, you and your household.” (See the Lesson entitled, Paul and the Jailer of Philippi.)

From here Paul and Silas went on their way and headed to Thessalonica, which had a powerful Jewish congregation. Here they spent three weeks, preaching, explaining, and demonstrating that the Christ had to suffer and rise again from the dead, and saying, “This Jesus who I preach to you is the Christ.” Some of the Jews, a great multitude of the Greeks, and not a few of the leading women joined Paul and Silas. But Paul’s words were poison to many of the Jews. Their ears heard the same ideas that Jesus of Nazareth had spoken! And they thought they were rid of that Jesus.

These Jews gathered an angry mob and caused the believers there to send Paul and Silas away. They moved to the town of Berea, and here too was a strong Jewish synagogue. But these Jews were {17:11} “more fair-minded than those in Thessalonica.” They listened to the Word of God with happiness, and searched the Scriptures daily to make sure that what Paul said was true.

When word got back to the Jews at Thessalonica, they rushed to Berea, and again stirred up a mob. Immediately the believers there sent Paul away by sea. And his transporters took him all the way to Athens, Greece.

When Paul walked into Athens he was walking into the heart of Greece, “the cradle of Western civilization.” For fifteen hundred years these people had worshiped the god Zeus, the goddess Hera, Apollo, Aphrodite, and many others. There were temples everywhere. The temples were set on hills, with mighty columns and statues of gold.

Paul was horrified. So he reasoned with the Jews in the synagogue and with the Gentile worshipers. He went to the marketplace daily. And there, one day, he did an incredible thing.

He stood at the center of a great plaza and said, “Men of Athens, I perceive that in all things you are very religious; for as I was passing through and considering the objects of your worship, I even found an altar with this inscription: TO THE UNKNOWN GOD.”

He got everyone’s attention! Remember, this was the city of Socrates and Aristotle, the great philosophers. Men prided themselves in intellectual speech. Most of the city’s inhabitants spent every day in the city center, discussing the "Newest Ideas."

Paul continued, "Therefore, the One whom you worship without knowing, Him I proclaim to you: God, who made the world and everything in it, since He is Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in temples made with hands. Nor is He worshiped with men's hands, as though He needed anything, since He gives to all life, breath, and all things. For in Him we live and move and have our being. Truly, these times of ignorance God overlooked, but now commands all men everywhere to repent, because He will judge the world in righteousness by the Man who He has ordained. He has given assurance of this to all by raising Him from the dead."

When the Athenians heard of Jesus' resurrection from the dead, some mocked, while others said, "We will hear you again on this matter."

After these things Paul departed from Athens and went to Corinth. There he found Aquila, another believer who was a tentmaker like Paul. Aquila and Paul worked hard making tents during the week. But every Sabbath Paul went to the synagogue to persuade the Jews and the Greeks that Jesus was the Christ. Paul spent a year and a half at Corinth and many of the Corinthians believed and were baptized.

What the Story Tells Us - Use the map on page one to complete the following items.

1. Draw a circle around the city at which a jailer and his family were brought to faith.
2. Draw a triangle around the city whose people searched the Scriptures to make sure that Paul and Silas were teaching correctly.
3. Draw a square around the city where Paul preached about the "unknown God."
4. Draw an X on the city whose people threatened Paul and Silas and then followed them to another city and threatened them.
5. Draw a line under the city where Paul lived with Aquila for a year and a half preaching and making tents.
6. What message did Paul and Silas bring to the people in each of these cities?
7. Go to the paragraph marked with a . Underline the words in Paul's sermon that are names for Jesus.

Outer Aim

The Lord sent Paul and Silas to revisit old churches and open new ones.

What God's Word Tells Us

"And other sheep I have which are not of this fold; them also I must bring, and they will hear My voice; and there shall be one flock and one shepherd." - John 10:16

1. How did Paul's life show that He understood the idea presented in this passage? Use examples from the story in your answer.
2. What could you do to show that you understand the idea presented in this passage? Give specific examples.

"And the Lord will deliver me from every evil work and preserve me for His heavenly Kingdom." - 2 Tim. 4:18

3. What comfort could Paul take from the message found in this passage?
4. What comfort can you take from the message found in this passage?

"My sheep hear My voice, and I know them and they follow Me. And I give them eternal life, and they shall never perish; neither shall anyone snatch them out of My hand." - John 10:27-28

5. What encouragement regarding the results of his work could Paul (and all those who spread God's Word) gain from the message of this passage?

Inner Aim

The Lord uses believers to fulfill the truth that "The Lord gives the increase."

Hymn - TLH #505 Find one phrase or idea in each stanza below and apply it in some way to our story. There are many possible applications.

Applications

1. O'er the gloomy hills of darkness,
Cheered by no celestial ray,
Sun of Righteousness, arising,
Bring the bright, the glorious day.
Let the morning of Thy blessed Gospel dawn.

2. Kingdoms wide that sit in darkness,
Grant them, Lord, the glorious light;
And from eastern coast to western
May the morning chase the night
And redemption, freely purchased, win the day!

3. Fly abroad, eternal Gospel;
Win and conquer, never cease.
May Thy lasting, wide dominions
Multiply and still increase!
May Thy scepter sway th' enlightened world around!

Prayer

O dearest Jesus,

Today we studied another of the missionary journeys of the Apostle Paul. Help us remember this dedicated worker of Yours and how he served You. Create in us a similar desire to serve You to the best of the abilities You have given us. Comfort us with the realization that our job is to tell people about You. You will cause Your Word to prosper and lead people to faith in You. We make these requests in Your blessed name. Amen.

The Story

The year is 50 A.D. It has been about 17 years since the Lord Jesus ascended to His Father. Here we find Paul setting out on a journey to revisit the congregations he had helped establish between the years 46 and 48 A.D. He wanted to “{36} go back and visit our brethren in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they are doing.” He did visit and strengthen and encourage the young church on earth. But, even better, during this second journey the history of Europe and, ultimately, America, was determined. Paul of Tarsus is credited with bringing Christianity to Europe! His chosen companion was Silas, a distinguished member of the mother church at Jerusalem. Silas was a powerful preacher who, {32} “being a prophet also, had exhorted and strengthened the brethren with many words.”

But it was not an easy journey. The Holy Spirit led them first to Macedonia, a colony that had not heard of Jesus Christ. Here Paul began preaching, and both were thrown into jail. But Paul’s words were poison to many of the Jews. Their ears heard the same ideas that Jesus of Nazareth had spoken! And they thought they were rid of him.

These Jews gathered a mob, harassed the man who was hosting Paul and Silas, and caused the believers there to send Paul and Silas away. They moved to the town of Berea, and here too was a strong Jewish synagogue. But these Jews were {17:11} “more fair-minded than those in Thessalonica.” The Word was received with all readiness, and the Jews there searched the Scriptures daily to find out whether these things were so.

When word got back to the Jews at Thessalonica, they rushed to Berea, and again stirred up a mob. Immediately the believers there sent Paul away by sea. And his transporters took him all the way to Athens, Greece.

When Paul walked into Athens he was walking into the heart of Greece, “the cradle of Western civilization.” For fifteen hundred years these people had woven a complex religion based on the god Zeus, the goddess Hera, Apollo, Aphrodite, and countless others. There were temples everywhere. Temples set on hills, with mighty columns and statues of gold. Indeed, only 150 kilometers to the west, in the ancient city of Olympia was one of the seven wonders of the ancient world; the temple of Zeus, the king of gods, which would have made our Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C. look tiny and insignificant.

Paul was horrified. So he reasoned with the Jews in the synagogue and with the Gentile worshipers. He went to the marketplace daily. And there, one day, he did an incredible thing. He stood at the center of a great plaza and said, "Men of Athens, I perceive that in all things you are very religious; for as I was passing through and considering the objects of your worship, I even found an altar with this inscription: TO THE UNKNOWN GOD."

He got everyone's attention! Remember, this was the city of Socrates and Aristotle, the great philosophers. Men prided themselves in intellectual speech. Most of the city's inhabitants spent every day in the city center, discussing the "Newest Ideas."

Paul continued, "Therefore, the One whom you worship without knowing, Him I proclaim to you: God, who made the world and everything in it, since He is Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in temples made with hands. Nor is He worshiped with men's hands, as though He needed anything, since He gives to all life, breath, and all things. And He has made from one blood every nation of men to dwell on all the face of the earth, and has determined their preappointed dwellings, so that they should seek the Lord, in the hope that they might grope for Him and find Him, though He is not far from each one of us; for in Him we live and move and have our being, as also some of your own poets have said, 'For we are also His offspring.' Therefore, since we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Divine Nature is like gold or silver or stone, something shaped by art and man's devising. Truly, these times of ignorance God overlooked, but now commands all men everywhere to repent, because He will judge the world in righteousness by the Man who He has ordained. He has given assurance of this to all by raising Him from the dead."

When the Athenians heard of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked, while others said, "We will hear you again on this matter." So Paul departed from among them. However, some men joined him and believed, among them Dionysius, a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

After these things Paul departed from Athens and went to Corinth. There he found another tentmaker named Aquila, a believer, and worked hard making tents during the week. But every Sabbath he went to the synagogue to persuade the Jews and the Greeks that Jesus was the Christ. Paul spent a year and a half at Corinth and many of the Corinthians believed and were baptized.

And from eastern coast to western
May the morning chase the night
And redemption, freely purchased, win the day!

3. Fly abroad, eternal Gospel;
Win and conquer, never cease.
May Thy lasting, wide dominions
Multiply and still increase!
May Thy scepter sway th'enlightened world around!

Prayer

O dearest Jesus, today we studied another of the missionary journeys of the Apostle Paul. Help us remember this dedicated worker of Yours and how he served You. Create in us a similar desire to serve You to the best of the abilities You have given us. Comfort us with the realization that our job is to tell people about You. You will cause Your Word to prosper and lead people to faith in You. We make these requests in Your blessed name. Amen.
