

Jacob Flees From Esau & Jacob's Dream

Genesis 27:41 - 28:22

The Story

Esau hated Jacob, his brother. Why? Esau had first of all sold his brother his special birthright for a bowl of stew. Now their father had given the special blessing to Jacob and not Esau. God wanted the younger brother, Jacob, to have this blessing. Our last lesson shows how Jacob and his mother, Rebekah, tried to help God carry out His plan.

Because of the blessing and birthright Jacob got from his father Esau said, "When our father is no longer alive, I will kill my brother Jacob."

Rebekah heard about this hate Esau had for Jacob so she sent and called Jacob. "Esau wants to kill you. Go to my brother Laban in Haran. Stay with him a few days, until your brother is no longer angry. I will send for you when Esau is not angry any longer."

Rebekah and Isaac decided Jacob should leave and marry one of Laban's daughters.

Then Isaac called Jacob and blessed him, and said to him: "Go to get a wife from the land of Haran. May God Almighty bless you, and make your family many. I give to you the blessing of Abraham. To you and your descendants you will have this land of Canaan.

So Isaac sent Jacob away. Jacob walked many many miles to the land of Haran where his uncle Laban lived.

As Jacob went toward Haran, he came to a certain place and stayed there because it was night. He took one of the stones of that place and put it under his head, and he lay down in that place to sleep. Then he dreamed, and behold, a ladder was set up on the earth, and its top reached to heaven. There the angels of God were going up and down on the ladder. The LORD stood at the top and said, "I am the LORD God of Abraham and Isaac. The land on which you lie I will give to you and your descendants.

Also your descendants shall be as the dust of the earth. Your family will be all over the land. Some day from your family Jesus the Savior will be born. The whole earth will be blessed because Jesus will take away all sins. I am with you and will keep you wherever you go, and will bring you back to this land. I will not leave you."

Then Jacob awoke from his sleep and said, "Surely the LORD is in this place, and I did not know it."

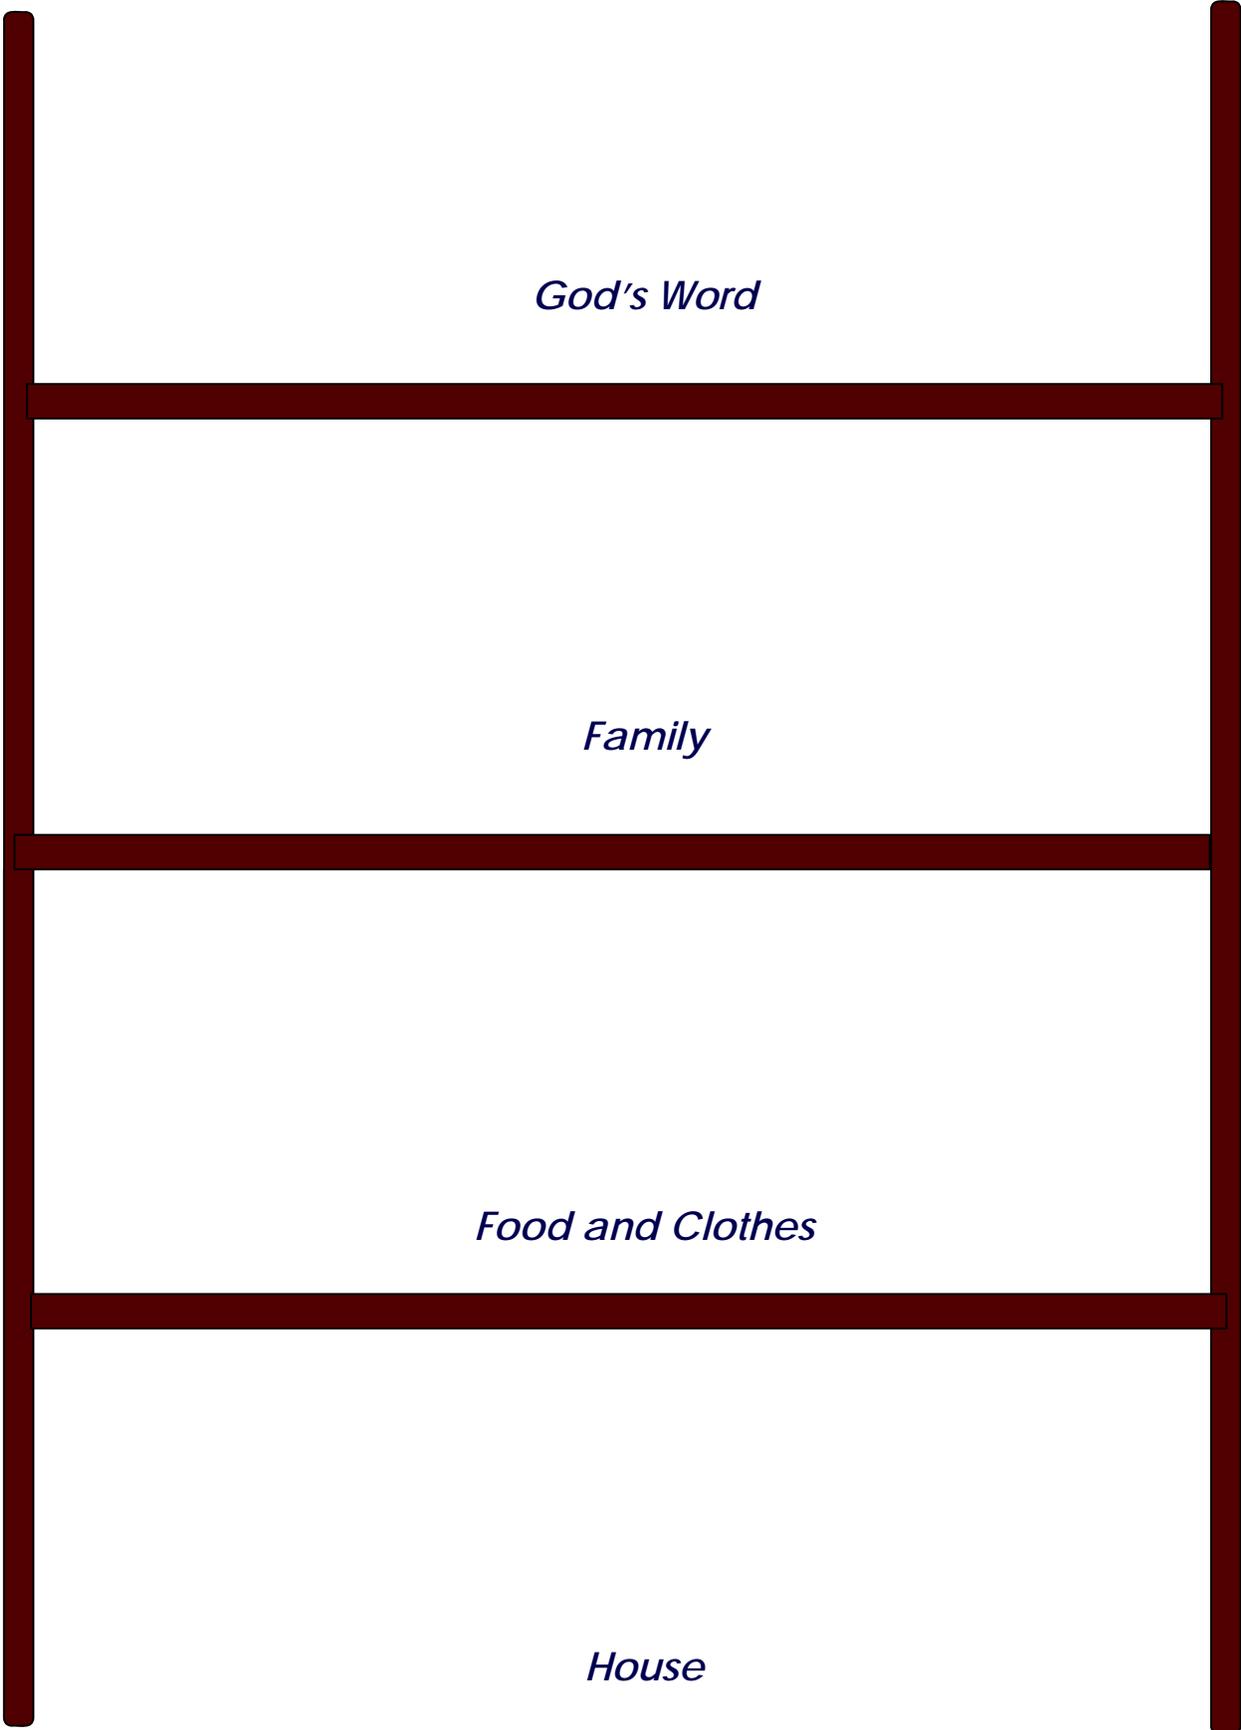

He was afraid and said, "How wonderful and special is this place! This is the house of God!"

Jacob rose early in the morning, and took the stone that he had put under his head, set it up as a pillar, and poured oil on top of it. He then called the place Bethel which means house of God.

Jacob made a promise that if God would keep him safe and let him return here some day, he would make this a special place and out of thankfulness for the Lord's blessings would give a portion of those blessings back to the Lord.

God stayed with Jacob and blessed him even when he had to flee from his angry brother.

Jacob Flees From Esau & Jacob's Dream

Genesis 27:41-28:22

This is Jacob. He received his father's blessing and birthright. You notice he is alone. He has also traveled by foot 500 miles. Listen carefully to hear why Jacob is 500 miles from home and alone.

Prayer

Lord open Thou my heart to hear
And through Thy Word to me draw near;
Let me Thy Word e'er pure retain,
Let me Thy child and heir remain. Amen

The Story - Genesis 27:41- 28:22

So Esau hated Jacob because of the blessing with which his father blessed him, and Esau said in his heart, "The days of mourning for my father are at hand; then I will kill my brother Jacob."

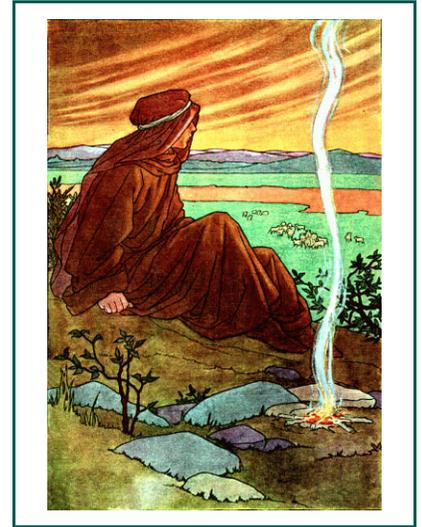

{42} And the words of Esau her older son were told to Rebekah. So she sent and called Jacob her younger son, and said to him, "Surely your brother Esau comforts himself concerning you by intending to kill you. {43} "Now therefore, my son, obey my voice: arise, flee to my brother Laban in Haran. {44} "And stay with him a few days, until your brother's fury turns away, {45} "until your brother's anger turns away from you, and he forgets what you have done to him; then I will send and bring you from there. Why should I be bereaved also of you both in one day?"

{46} And Rebekah said to Isaac, "I am weary of my life because of the daughters of Heth; if Jacob takes a wife of the daughters of Heth, like these who are the daughters of the land, what good will my life be to me?"

(Genesis 28) Then Isaac called

Jacob and blessed him, and charged him, and said to him: "You shall not take a wife from the daughters of Canaan. {2} "Arise, go to Padan Aram, to the house of Bethuel your mother's father; and take yourself a wife from there of the daughters of Laban your mother's brother. {3} "May God Almighty bless you, And make you fruitful and multiply you, That you may be an assembly of peoples; {4} And give you the blessing of Abraham, To you and your descendants with you, That you may inherit the land in which you are a stranger, Which God gave to Abraham." {5} So Isaac sent Jacob away, and he went to Padan Aram, to Laban the son of Bethuel the Syrian, the brother of Rebekah, the mother of Jacob and Esau.

{6} Esau saw that Isaac had blessed Jacob and sent him away to Padan Aram to take himself a wife from there, and that as he blessed him he gave him a charge, saying, "You shall not take a wife from the daughters of Canaan," {7} and that Jacob had obeyed his father and his mother and had gone to Padan Aram. {8} Also Esau saw that the daughters of Canaan did not please his father Isaac. {9} So Esau went to Ishmael and took Mahalath the daughter of Ishmael, Abraham's son, the sister of Nebajoth, to be his wife in addition to the wives he had.

{10} Now Jacob went out from Beersheba and went toward Haran. {11} So he came to a certain place and stayed there all night, because the sun had set. And he took one of the stones of that

{16} Then Jacob awoke from his sleep and said, "Surely the LORD is in this place, and I did not know it." {17} And he was afraid and said, "How awesome is this place! This is none other than the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven!"

{18} Then Jacob rose early in the {20} Then Jacob made a vow, saying, "If God will be with me, and keep me in this way that I am going, and give me bread to eat and clothing to put on, {21} "so that I come back to my father's house in peace, then the LORD shall be my God. {22} "And this stone which I have set as a pillar shall be God's house, and of all that You give me I will surely give a tenth to You."

Outer Aim - God stayed with Jacob and blessed him even when he had to flee from his angry brother.

Inner Aim - God is always with us and blesses us with true faith.

OUTER AIM

When Jacob had to flee from his angry brother, God stayed with him.

INNER AIM

In God's master plan, for saving sinners, He makes all things work together for good, because He can overrule our counterproductive sinful mistakes.

BACKGROUND (Text commentary)

Ch. 27 tells us which twin would be the transmitter of the Messianic promise. Isaac sinned in wanting it to be Esau; Rebekah and Jacob also sinned in using lies and deception to outsmart Isaac, which is not the way in which the LORD opens His hands to bless us.

Ch 27: vs.41-46

(This section shows that there was plenty of guilt to go around.) Naturally, Esau was irate at having been outmaneuvered by Jacob, even though he had already sold his birthright to Jacob (26:29-34). Evidently he said something that reflected his evil plan-(We detect no sign of repentance on the part of Esau, or of Jacob, or of Rebekah, or of Isaac.)—so Rebekah thought that she could smooth over the troubled waters if Jacob was out of sight for a while. (By the way, she died before Jacob ever got home again.)

The way she made the request of Isaac was another half-truth, a subterfuge that Isaac might swallow. Surprisingly, the text gives no hint that he perceived the strife between his sons.

Ch. 28: vs. 1-5

Isaac agreed with the plan that Jacob should marry a cousin.

Isaac repeated some of God's blessings carried over from Abraham, especially to settle in Canaan, which was part of the Messianic blueprint.

So Jacob, aged seventy-one, left his mother, father and revengeful brother. He went all alone on a dangerous 500-mile trek, perhaps wondering if his selfish actions had ruined his future.

vs.6-9

Esau was willing to stay at home. Trying to find a way to recoup his losses by ingratiating himself in his father's good favor, he married an Abrahamic girl.

vs. 10-22 This episode is a watershed for Jacob's spiritual renewal, fitting him for God's hand.

v.10-12

By time Jacob had traveled a few days, he came to a spot twelve miles north of Jerusalem. The ladder pictures an access route for angels to come and go on God's business with humans. Some interpret it as a Messianic symbol, the grand staircase of open access to the Father.

vs.13-15

We note that there is no scolding, no reprimand, no LAW! So apparently Jacob was repentant over his cheating of Esau and his deceiving of Isaac.

At that juncture, God gave him good news for the future: His promise regarding the land, the increase of progeny, and the Seed--all due to His loving guidance and protection. Evidently Jacob needed this assurance that the LORD God was on his side and had not abandoned him in his needs.

He is wonderfully surprised that Jehovah has been at his side all along, even under the scary and shameful conditions under which he had left his father's house.

Afraid = overawed, almost benumbed at such a miracle of grace. [Jacob jumped to the conclusion that geography was an issue behind the LORD's appearance, but we recognize that just then he needed a place to call "home."]

Evidently Jacob also needed the sevenfold assurances of grace that God gave him:

- Clear identification of the LORD as being the same God of Abraham and Isaac;
- Clear indication that this location was destined for Jacob's descendants [thus he could deduce that Esau would not murder him, for God promised him future children!];
- Assurance that his family tree would become innumerable and spread in all directions;
- The Jacob-sired family tree would produce the Savior ("bless all nations");
- God would be close to Jacob no matter where he went as an exile;
- God would manipulate Jacob's future to get bring back home again (to Canaan);
- God would provide His supportive presence during the time of fulfillment.

vs.18-22

This is the first voluntary vow recorded in Scripture; in this dedicatory ceremony Jacob changed the placename from Luz to Bethel ("house of God"), pledged himself to the LORD for his life, his future, his church, and his stewardship.

(Since the King James translation sounds too "iffy" to exhibit Jacob's good attitude, we prefer Leupold's Commentary here: "If God will be with me...in this way which I am going...and I shall return in peace...and Yahweh will be God to me--then this stone...shall be a house of God." That he carried out this vow is reported in ch. 35:1-7.)

STUDENT PRAYER

My Father in heaven, I am just beginning my journey in life. I know I have already made mistakes in the way I have treated my Mom, Dad, brother, sister. So I realize the value of having Your blessing to fix my mistakes. Since I do not know what awaits me in life--but You do--please take me and my future into Your hands. In Jesus' love I am safe. Amen.

PRESENTATION (Helps and Hints)

1. The teacher will use his/her skills to preserve the aliveness of the Scriptural narrative. Jacob's life (lessons #9 and #10) crackles with human drama. In reading the text aloud, practice the craft of dramatic presentation (rising/falling intonation--as in music--with dramatic pauses, etc., to reveal the nervous tension between Jacob and Esau, or to portray the ominous nature of Rebekah's "sting operation."
2. In upper classes, perhaps capable students could be given the "roles" of Isaac, Rebekah, Jacob, and Esau in order thus to get more deeply in touch with them. (Teacher can be the voice of the LORD!)
3. Nonetheless, maintain a focus on Jacob is becoming the next section of the Messianic bridge ("From Abraham to Bethlehem to Calvary" form some Scriptural ABC's).

APPLICATIONS

1. God keeps His promises: "If you abide in Me, and my words abide in you,, you will ask what you desire, and it shall be done for you." Jn.15:7, etc.
2. The loss of a brother's/sister's good will is a bitter fruit on the family tree--and can sour relationships for years to come. (Any teacher anecdote here...?)
3. An intelligent and resourceful child can fall into the sin of playing one parent against the other, especially in order to gain advantage over a sibling. What result can be expected?
4. Anger, the fun of hating, the pleasure of despising others are some of Satan's best tools to ensnare teens into sins they can't ever cure. The Columbine massacre is but the tip of a familiar mountain range from which a volcano can erupt.
